

Chapter 4: Urban Design

1. What does building in context mean?

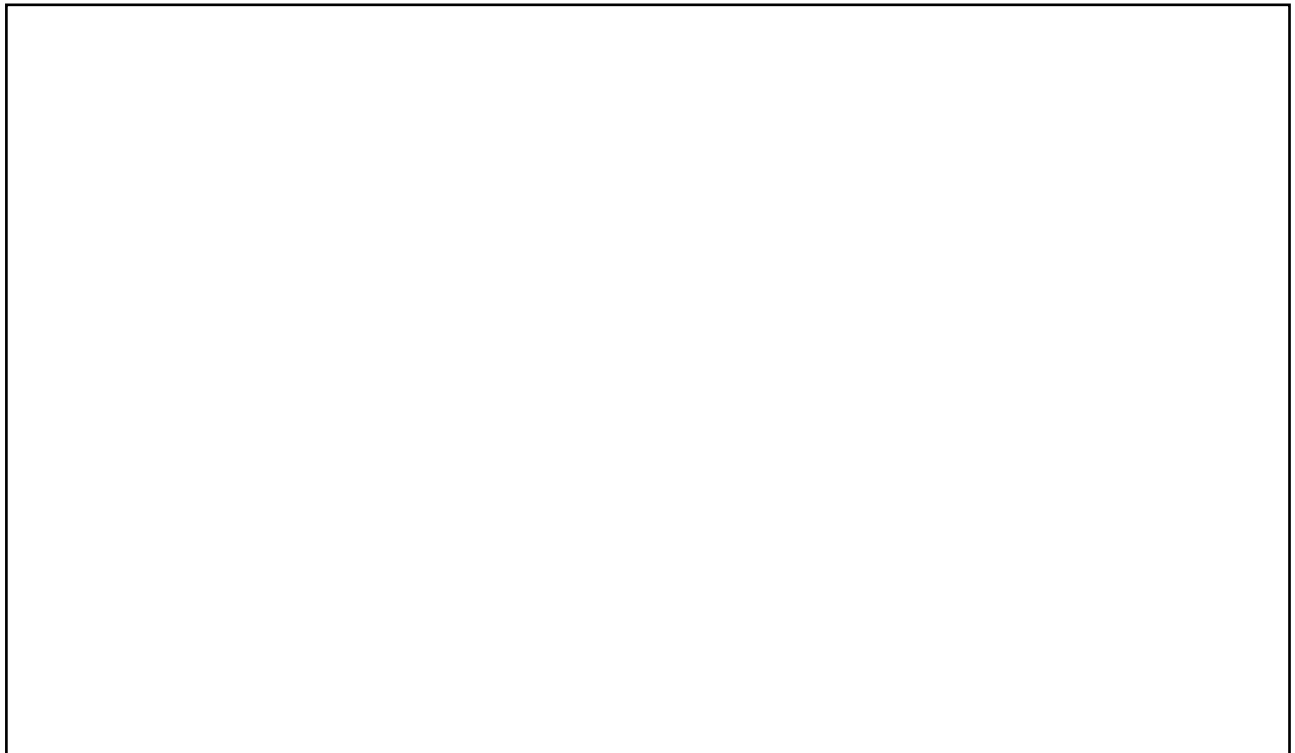

2. Make a sketch explaining the 'connections' principle.

3. Why is it important that neighbourhoods are designed to be inclusive?

4. What would be the consequences of designing neighbourhoods that are not inclusive?

5. Describe, using a note and a neat freehand sketch of the street plan, a neighbourhood that you are familiar with that demonstrates the principle of 'variety'.

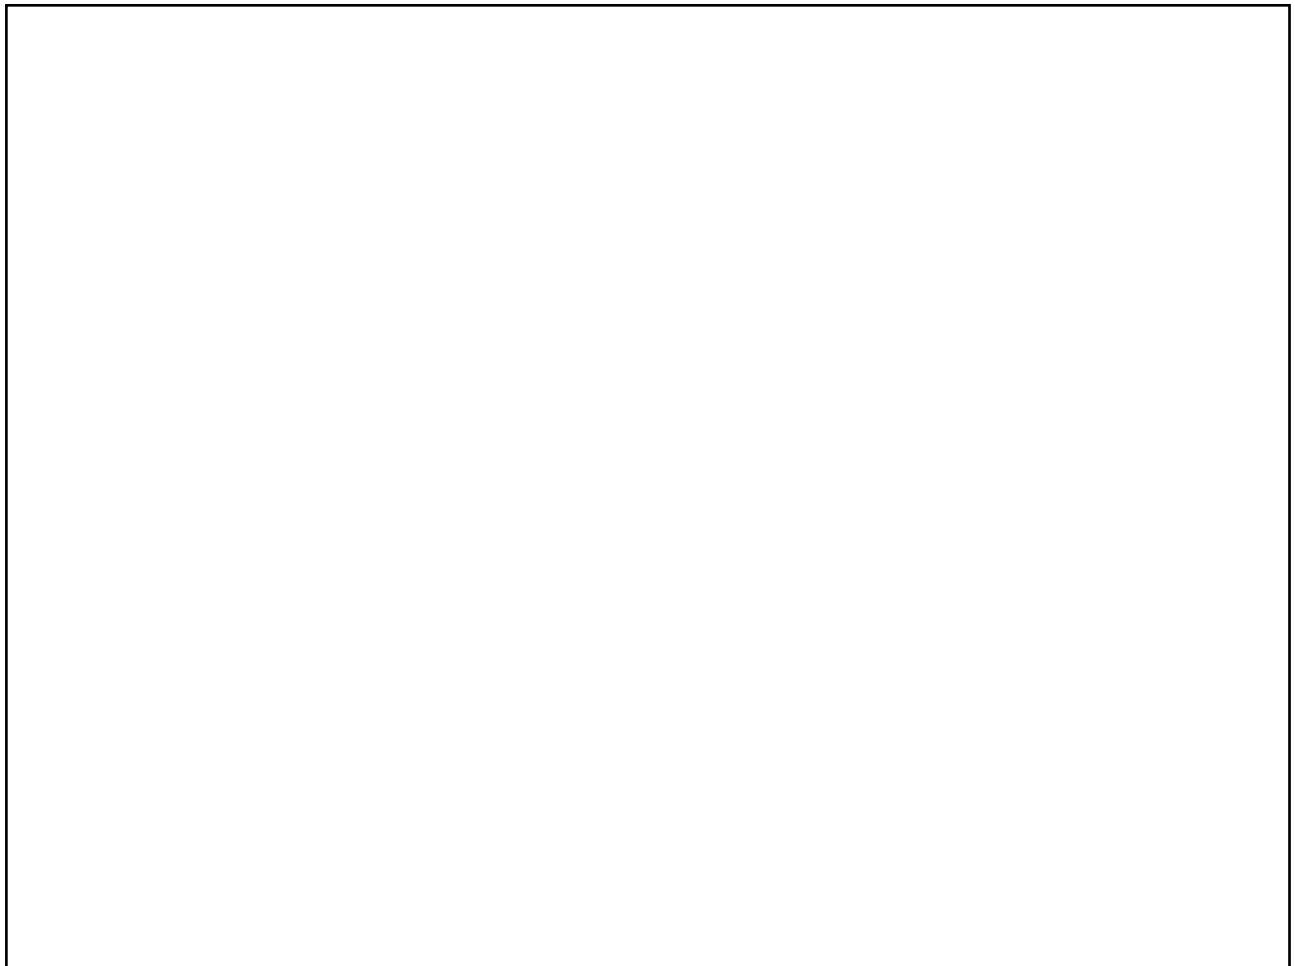

6. Why is it essential that resources are used efficiently?

7. Describe a feature in an urban setting that you consider to be distinctive.

8. How can a well designed site layout contribute to community life?

9. Describe five qualities of a well designed public space?

10. Explain, using a note and a neat freehand sketch, the principle of adaptability.

11. Why is privacy particularly important in urban communities?

12. Describe a specific example of detailed design in an urban setting that you think is excellent.
